MONUMENT HERE FOR ROBT. E. LEE

Southern Women Start Campaign to have Erected on Gettysburg Battlefield a Statue of Southern Commander.

The Daughters of the Confederacy at Macon, Georgia, have launched a campaign to erect a statue of General Robert E. Lee on the Gettysburg battlefield. It is their idea to have the statue erected in connection with the Peace Memorial for which Congress has been asked to appropriate half a million dollars. This, it is understood, will in no way interfere with the plans of the state of Virginia to erect a monument here which shall have its crowning feature an equestrian statue of the southern general. In commenting on the movement of the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Buffalo Enquirer has the following to say:

"Lincoln himself would desire just such a tribute to the valorous soldier of Virginia. It was at Gettysburg that Lee's last northern raid was disastrously repulsed, giving fresh hope and impetus to the soldiers and sailors of the Union. Prior to espousing the lost cause Lee was a splendid type of the American soldier. It was Lee, after the surrender of his army at Appomattox, who by his noble example and fine conduct seconded the sentiment so gloriously spoken by Ulysses S. Grant when he exclaimed 'Let us have peace.'"

"Virginia idolizes the name of Lee, the whole Southland rightly regards him as her most beloved son. Forty seven years have passed since Lee surrendered and practically brought the Civil War to a close. The animosities and heart-burnings have been forever healed by time. The people of the East, North and West will look with great complacency on the report of the South to place a statue of Robert E. Lee on the battlefield of Gettysburg, where countless thousands may view it and draw their own lessons of patriotism and valor therefrom."

SALES BRING HIGH PRICES

Stock Selling High. Horses Bring Over Two Hundred Dollars and Cattle Reach Sixty Dollars, Spring Sale News.

With the spring sale season now on in full swing Adams County people are watching closely prices secured for stock and interest in the numerous sales in various parts of the county is keen. Early sales held during the past ten days indicate that stock this year will bring high prices and those having good cattle and horses for sale will receive full value for their animals.

The early sales have seen horses selling well up towards $300, and some above that figure, while cows have brought as high as $80.00. Hogs are selling well and poultry brings good prices, turkeys selling for as high as twenty six cents a pound while chickens have brought sixteen cents. Other things bring corresponding prices which is an exceedingly good indication, the early seller usually fearing somewhat lower prices because of the fact that the purchaser is compelled to feed the stock several weeks longer than those who purchase at the late March sales.

The sale as the annual medium of exchange among farmers is more popular this year than ever before as is shown by the large number being held. Every section of the county has its share and as many sales as six and eight a day are listed. The attendance at the early sales is generally reported as large where weather conditions are good and the stock and machinery offered for sale are known to be desirable. The enterprising farmer always fattens his stock and gets it in good shape before holding sale. This has been a more or less difficult matter on account of the severe winter which required careful attention and good feeding to keep stock even to normal. Machinery is repainted and busy weeks preceded the sale of the farmer who is wise.

Custom rules greatly in the conduct of the sales. Practically every farmer having sale offers a certain percentage off for cash. This is usually either four or five per cent, though one Adams County farmer gives notice that he will allow six per cent to the cash purchaser. A credit of from ten to twelve months is given to purchasers giving their notes with approved security.

While farmers are interested keenly in these sales and will continue to attend in large numbers for the next few weeks, the attraction they hold is not confined alone to the rural people. "Town folks" watch closely the list of articles for sale and any signs of desirable antique furniture being sold never fail to draw eager buyers. As a social gathering point the sale cannot be outdone and, as a business and social proposition, the annual spring sale season has come to be one of Adams County's most firmly rooted institutions.

ANNUAL COLLEGE SOCIAL EVENT

Junior Prom and Other Attractions Bring Large Number of Guests from a Distance. Hall Prettily Decorated for Dance.

Friday was the occasion of the annual Junior Prom and its attendant events at Gettysburg College and the day proved one of the most signal social successes at the local institution for many years. Forty two out of town guests were here for the day which culminated in the annual dance in the evening given by the Junior class to the Seniors.

In the afternoon Mrs. Granville received all the guests at the "White House." The Gettysburg-Dickinson basketball game was at four o'clock and the guests here for the dance all witnessed that contest which resulted in a victory of 42 to 22 for Gettysburg.

The dance in the evening was one of the most brilliant yet held in Glatfelter Hall. The room was effectively decorated in a lattice work extending a short distance from the walls and about three feet from the ceiling. This was covered with pine and through the pine were scattered small incandescent electric light bulbs of various colors, making an unusually pretty effect. Sixty eight couples were present and dancing was continued until half past two. Lozier's Orchestra, of Harrisburg, furnished the music. Mrs. Miller catered.

The patronesses were, Mrs. W. A. Granville, Mrs. William Hersb, Mrs. Paul Martin, Mrs. E. A. Crouse, Mrs. Daniel Skelly, Mrs. William Arch McClean, Mrs. Charles H. Huber, Mrs. Harry Huber, Mrs. Charles S. Duncan, Mrs. J. Donald Swope, Mrs. Frederick H. Bloomhardt, Mrs. Oscar G. Kling, Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Mrs. S. G. Valentine, Mrs. Richard S. Kirby, Mrs. Pennell.

NEWS NOTES IN BRIEF PARAGRAPHS

Items of Interest in the Town and County. Matters of Activity along Various Lines Told in Short Paragraphs.

It is stated that Gettysburg's pavements will be still further improved during the summer months by the laying of more concrete. Property owners have had the advantages of these pavements fully demonstrated during the recent rainy days.

The operations at the new federal building during the summer months will doubtless prove a big attraction for those who enjoy spending their time watching other people work. It is expected that rapid progress will be made during the summer and that by fall the structure will be well on its way to completion.

The announcement of college baseball and football schedules is promised for the near future. The baseball team is said to have a rather ambitious schedule. Franklin and Marshall will not appear on the football schedule and Gettysburg's team will be without a Thanksgiving Day game. Bucknell will be played at Harrisburg late in the season and the Dickinson game will be played on Nixon Field.

With all the talk which has been going the rounds about the high coal bills and so on, the small boy and his older brother are trying to figure out just where their usual winter fun came in. There was almost no good skating owing to snow on the ice and coasting was far from being at its best. Other years with less severe weather providing much more fun for the young people.

Chickenpox made its appearance in Gettysburg during the past few weeks in only about a half dozen homes. Conditions were in striking contrast to last year which reported more than a hundred cases of this apparently harmless though decidedly uncomfortable ailment.

Successful revival services have been held in various parts of the county this year and in every instance conversions have been most gratifying to those conducting the meetings.

The school year for the rural teachers and pupils is drawing very rapidly to a close. Summer schools are planned at some places and the usual attendance may be looked for.

ROOSEVELT ON VISIT TO BOSTON
Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel Go to Panama.

PLANS STATEMENT MONDAY

Colonel Will Reply to Demand of Governors for a Definition of Position as a Candidate for President.

New York, Feb. 24.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt left this morning for a four-day trip to Boston. Before he departed he accompanied Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel to the steamer on which they sailed for Panama.

Colonel Roosevelt said that his stay in Boston will be given up to visits to old friends, who have no connection with things political. He will also attend the meeting of the Harvard overseers. He will make no public speeches, but it is considered very unlikely that his visit will end without his meeting men prominent in New England politics.

That the colonel will be unable, even should he desire to escape entirely from his boom, is rendered more certain by the fact that his reply to the demand of the eight governors for a definition of his position as a candidate is to be made public on Monday.

Since the colonel told a Cleveland politician that "my hat is in the ring," interest in his reply to the governors has, if possible, been more intense among his political friends and foes than ever. Mr. Roosevelt has refused to confirm or deny that figure of challenge, and it is not expected that his letter will contain, even in metaphor, so direct an announcement as his candidacy. But whatever the letter to the governors contains, it will at least be the first public word from Mr. Roosevelt himself concerning his boom, and it is remembered that he has said that when he had an announcement to make about the 1912 race he would do so "publicly and over my own signature."

Colonel Roosevelt will not return to New York until next Wednesday, and it is possible that the sessions at the Outlook office may not reconvene until the following Friday.

THREE MEN SWEEPED TO DEATH

Schooner Encountered Gales and Lost Seamen in Whirlpool.
Philadelphia, Feb. 24.—When the British schooner Success reached the Delaware Breakwater it was learned that three members of the crew had been swept overboard and lost off Cape May by the terrific gale that changed the sea into monstrous whirlpools at that point on Wednesday as the boat was approaching the Delaware Capes.

According to the report of Captain Innes, who was in charge of the schooner, the three ill-fated seamen were on the deck of the vessel with other members of the crew, when suddenly it seemed as if the boat made a great dive under a wave that swept with tremendous impetus from bow to stern, carrying the men far out into the sea and drowning their cries for help under the seething roar.

After it was noticed that the men were missing an effort was made to save them with life buoys, but they had already been carried several hundred yards from the ship and could not be aided. It was impossible to put the lifeboats into use on account of the angry seas.

POISONER CONFESSES

Woman Admits She Put Oxalic Acid in Babies' Milk.

New York, Feb. 24.—Winifred Ankers, the attendant at the Brooklyn Nursery and Infants' hospital, broken down and confessed after a two-hours' interrogation by the police that it was she who had put oxalic acid in the milk prepared for the babies in the hospital, causing eight deaths and four sicknesses since Monday.

Her purpose, the girl said, was not to kill the children, but to make it appear that nurses in the hospital, against whom she had a grudge, were not taking proper care of the children.

Mrs. Ankers has a baby of her own in the hospital. He is not sick. The police brought her to the point of confessing by threatening to take her baby away, whereupon there was a hysterical outburst, in which the young woman sobbed out her story of how she had dropped the oxalic acid into the milk bottles.

Ever since the case of the eight dead babies was called to the attention of the authorities Mrs. Ankers has been under suspicion.

ACTION TODAY IN "POISONED PEN" CASE

Inspectors Convinced Pottsville Widow is Author.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 24.—It is expected that action in the sending of "poisoned pen" letters to the members and pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be taken today when Inspector Schoenberger gets here.

Thus far the results of the investigation have convinced the inspectors that female member of the congregation has been wielding the "poisoned pen," which has worried the church attendants for nearly a year, but friends of the accused woman declared that a confession of another person will clear the widow, of whose guilt the inspectors now seem convinced. They base their belief on the similarity of her handwriting and typewriting with those shown in the letters.

Some of the letters sent to women of the congregation advised them "not to make sheep's eyes at the men during worship." Another letter to the wife of a business man read: "Your only object in going to church is to show your millinery. If you would be as attentive to your own husband as you are to other women's husbands, you would lead a happier life and be a better Christian."

Unmarried men in the congregation were warned that certain young women had designs upon them and that they should give the girls a wide berth if they cared to remain bachelors.

In this manner the "poisoned pen" writer skillfully worked upon the fears of her victims, sending letter after letter, until the recipients were so distracted that they banished their dislike of publicity and placed the case in the hands of Inspector Schoenberger.

ACTRESS RODE IN TENDER

Stranded Performer Beat Her Way on Railroad For 56 Miles.

Hazleton, Pa., Feb. 24.—Mounting the tender of a Lehigh Valley passenger engine at Mount Carmel as the train pulled out for Hazleton, Jeanette Burns, a seventeen-year-old actress, member of a company that was stranded in Shamokin, rode unknown to the crew all the way to Stockton, east of Hazleton, a distance of fifty-six miles.

ALL PARTIES TO UNITE ON TARIFF

Program Will be Framed by Regulars and Progressives.

MEET EARLY NEXT MONTH

Steel Bill Hearing Enlivened by Attack on House Committee by W. U. Follansbee, of Pittsburg.

Washington, Feb. 24. — The tariff legislation program in the senate will be framed at conferences which the Democrats, the Progressive Republicans and the regular Republicans are planning to hold soon after the finance committee concludes its hearings on the house steel revision bill. That will be early in March.

Democratic leaders virtually have decided to make a firm stand for the house measure, with perhaps a modification which will not interfere with party solidarity in congress, and then, having gone on record for the straight Democratic bill, to endeavor to reach some common ground with the Progressive Republicans.

The regular Republicans have not yet had a final conference on the committee's procedure, but in all probability will rest on the absence of a report from the tariff board and simply bring in an adverse report on the house measure. They are not unanimous on that point, however. Some insist that the committee should report a Republican substitute for the measure passed by the Democratic house.

Progressive Republican senators have talked over the situation informally, and while there has been no general conclusion reached, the plan of some of those most active is to make some concessions for the Democrats if the concessions asked are not too great. The Progressive demand is for a reduction of the duties, but not such a reduction as will carry the tariff below the protective point.

Some of the more conservative Progressives, however, are already discussing the advisability of waiting a reasonable time for the tariff board's report.

The finance committee's hearings on the steel bill were enlivened with an attack by W. U. Follansbee, a Pittsburg tin plate manufacturer, on the house sub-committee which framed the bill. Mr. Follansbee, who also represented fourteen other independent tin plate manufacturers, denounced the bill as too drastic. He said the ways and means committee was not competent to deal with an industry that had millions of dollars invested and employed thousands of men.

"How do you know that the men on that committee were not competent to handle such a subject?" asked Senator Kera.

"Because I was in close touch with not only Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, but with Representative Palmer, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the sub-committee that framed the bill. They got considerable information from me bearing on the tin plate industry, while the measure was being framed. I do not mean that they are not perfectly competent to deal with legislation, but they are not familiar with the tin plate business."

SEE RUIN IN STEEL BILL

Chain Manufacturers Protest to Senate Committee.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Chain manufacturers protested to the senate committee on finances against the Underwood steel tariff revision bill. John C. Schmidt, of Pittsburg; Eli Atwood, of Lebanon, Pa., and Thomas P. Woodhouse, of Trenton, N. J., told the committee that any reduction in the tariff would practically put them out of business.

KNOX SAILS AWAY

Key West, Fla., Feb. 24.—With Secretary of State Knox and members of his party on board the cruiser Washington cleared here for Central American waters.

When the secretary went aboard he was greeted with a nineteen-gun salute, and shortly afterward the cruiser cleared for Port Antonio, Jamaica, where the first stop will be made.

The secretary was received on the cruiser by Captain Hughes, and while the band played the entire marine guard was paraded in his honor. Secretary Knox will occupy the admiral's quarters of the cruiser, which have been refitted for his use.

House Asks For Ainsworth Letters.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The house called upon Secretary of War Stimson for all correspondence and letters bearing upon the charges of insubordination for which Adjutant General Ainsworth recently was relieved from duty in the war department. The resolution, by Representative Watkins, of Louisiana, Democrat, was passed without opposition.

WILSON GETS HALF OKLAHOMA VOTE

State Convention Decides to Divide Delegation.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 24.—Contest for control of the Oklahoma delegates to the national Democratic convention waged between Champ Clark and Woodrow Wilson campaign-ers, resulted in a compromise agreement whereby a split delegation will be sent to Baltimore.

The compromise was reached after an all-night contest. State politics, at times, obstructed the way to a decision. The turning point came when an amendment authorizing endorsement of Champ Clark for president was offered to a resolution which provided for a divided delegation, ten delegates for Clark and ten delegates for Wilson.

The amendment was lost by a vote of 314½ to 289. This vote showed plainly to the Clark adherents the nothing remained but compromise. Thereupon the resolution for a divided delegation was adopted.

United States Senator Thomas P. Gore heads the list of ten Wilson delegates.

It is contended by party leaders that the divided delegation precludes any Oklahoma votes being cast for Governor Harmon, of Ohio, Oklahoma's entire strength will be thrown to either Clark or Wilson, as soon as one shows a majority in the balloting.

CLUB EXPELS HINES

Chicago Union League Ousts Man Who Put Lorimer Over.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Edward Hines, millionaire lumberman, who is quoted as boasting that he "put Lorimer over," was expelled from the Union League club.

The charge on which the board of managers of the club voted expulsion for the lumberman was that he had violated the provision of the constitution of the club, which sets forth the purpose of the organization as the furtherance of higher ideals and good government.

The club has been the scene of a struggle between the Lorimer and Funk factions. The latter is general manager of the Harvester trust, and the man who made public the story that Hines wanted him to subscribe to a $100,000 fund for "putting Lorimer over."

Troops Prevent Lynching.

Bardwell, Ky., Feb. 24.—State troops arrived here to protect William Richardson, whose life has been sought by three different mobs since he killed James Violet at Milburne, Ky., several days ago. Richardson will be placed on trial and speedy conviction is expected. It is declared that Richardson shot down Violet without a word of warning. The men were not acquainted.

Taft Favors Two More Battleships.

Washington, Feb. 24.—President Taft, speaking at the peace meetings of the Navy league, declared that the time had not come for this country to be economical at the expense of an adequate naval establishment, and he expressed the hope that the present congress would authorize the construction of two battleships, and said that he would gladly sign a bill that carried such an authorization.
